

New Release: Wander

Wander begins with a dreaming bear waking from hibernation, and meanders along across the seasons, exploring the environment, encountering wildlife and sharing new experiences before returning to hibernation at the end of the year.

This story is told from the bear's perspective – imagined via rich bearish glyphs representing the bear's language. A full glossary of pictographs serves as a reference to check your understanding.

Wander offers a glimpse into the everyday magic that surrounds us in a tale told by a wandering bear – in that bear's own language!

The Apple Books version includes tappable glyphs with short definitions. Ages 9+

See if you can predict the meaning of glyphs as the story unfolds - or double check the glossary!

Author & Illustrator: Holly Valero

A life-long writer and artist, Holly writes and illustrates the Mouse and Elephant Books series and Wander – from her home in Southern Maine.
